Search has been instituted for several other Mexicans believed implicated in a conspiracy to smuggle liquor into Arizona.

THAW SPORTIVE AT THE BEACH.

GOES IN SWIMMING AND POSES FOR THE MOVIES.

He Also Attends Church and Then Later in the Day Leaves for Philadelphia—Expects to be in His Old Home at Pittsburgh in a Few Days.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE: ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) July 18.—Harry K. Thaw left here late today for Philadelphia, where he announced he would spend the night. Leaving his hotel half an hour before his train was due to depart, he delegated a reporter to have an automobile ready to rush him to the station. Then he went to a public bath-house, donned a bathing suit and went into the water for fifteen minutes.

Thaw spent the day very quietly. Shortly after breakfast he strolled out on the board walk and met James Mullen, an old friend of Dr. Silvester L. Scoville, President of the University of Wooster, where Thaw attended school as a boy. Mr. Mullen, who is 90 years old, took him to the First Presbyterian Church. After church Thaw again went to the beach. He posed for the moving pictures for some time and spent the remainder of the afternoon at his hotel chatting with friends.

Thaw, who came here Friday night after being released from the New York Supreme Court, said he was undecided as to when he would leave Philadelphia for Pittsburgh, but expected to reach the latter city in a few days.

SUSPICION OF MURDER.

Aged Rancher Found Hanged to a Tree at Hayward, Cal., Starts Investigation by Police.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE: HAYWARD (Cal.) July 18.—M. S. Bettencourt, 67 years old, was found hanged to a tree today on a ranch near here. Walter Haynes, his business partner, was arrested on suspicion of having murdered him. Physicians who performed an autopsy expressed the belief that Bettencourt had come to his death by strangulation but that he was dead before he was suspended from the tree. Haynes is alleged to have told the authorities that he and Bettencourt quarreled over an apricot picking venture in which both were interested, and that the old man attacked him with a pitchfork. He said he struck Bettencourt but denied killing him. It was said that no pitchfork was found in the vicinity of the body.

SLAVS' LINE IS PIERCED.

Big German Armies Near Warsaw.

Russians Fighting Stubbornly Deliver Vicious Blows on Opponents.

Berlin Again is Celebrating the Recent Victories of Von Hindenburg.

Strong Efforts to Clear Turks off Gallipoli Peninsula Being Made.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P. J: LONDON, July 18.—The Russian front, running from the Baltic in the north to Bessarabia in the south, a distance of nearly a thousand miles, is being subjected to violent attacks by the Germans and Austrians and in places has, according to the German official report, been pierced.

In the Baltic provinces, Gen. Von Buelow, who is using large forces of cavalry, has crossed the Windau River and is moving toward Riga. In the Praznys district, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, who is making his fourth attempt to reach Warsaw, has twice broken the Russian lines and compelled the defenders to retire toward the Narew River.

In Southern Poland, after a period of inactivity, Field Marshal Von Mackensen is again on the move and claims to have captured some Russian advanced positions, which stood between him and his objective, the Lublin-Chelm Railway.

TEUTONS ON OFFENSIVE.

Simultaneously with these attacks, which are the main ones, the Austro-German armies are on the offensive west of the Vistula River, in Central Poland and along the Dnieper River in Galicia. As was the case in the drive through Western Galicia, the Russians are fighting stubbornly, and on occasion are turning and delivering vicious blows at their opponents. But whether they will be able to hold their present lines is problematical.

The probability of the Russians having to evacuate Warsaw, which is threatened by Von Hindenburg in the north and Von Mackensen in the south, is being seriously discussed. The possibility of a further advance, however, is being calmly considered in Russia, where the old theory that the further the enemy is drawn into the country the worse it is for him, buoy up their hopes of final victory.

For the present, Berlin is the only place celebrating military crises. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, whose success in the Praznys district is the cause of it, is being lauded. With enormous numbers of German troops being used for the offensive in the east—the greatest movement of the kind ever undertaken in the history of war—the military critics do not look for any events of outstanding importance in the west for some time to come. The official reports issued today show that almost any rate, no important move has been undertaken by either side. There have been artillery engagements all along the front and a few infantry battles, but they were infinitesimal in comparison.

Pierce Blase Near Truckee Spreads into Forests of Lakeview.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE: TRUCKEE (Cal.) July 18.—Twenty-six hundred feet of Southern Pacific snowsheds were destroyed by fire here today. Twelve miles west of here today. Two outfit trains also were destroyed. The flames spread to forests in the vicinity of Lakeview, but after a stubborn fight, further menace was removed late tonight. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss was estimated tonight at between $10,000 and $50,000. Train service upon the main line of the Southern Pacific railway was tied up for many hours, but was resumed about 10 p.m.

MAY STRIKE AT AMERICA.

AUSTRIA ACCUSES US OF UN-NEUTRAL ACTIONS.

Six Million Men in this Country may be Asked to Aid the Fatherland in Preventing the Manufacture and Shipment of Munitions of War to the Allies.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH: LONDON, July 18.—The Morning Post's Budapest correspondent says: "It is stated that the government contemplates the mobilization of the American Austrians and Hungarians, of whom there are some 4,000,000 in the United States, so as to interfere with the manufacture of war material, if the American government will not meet the demands of the central empire. One of the members of Count Tisza's club said:

"It is a great mistake on the part of America to believe that we are utterly powerless for if the worst comes to the worst, we have more than 15,000,000 men, mostly in the Eastern States—Germans, Austrians and Hungarians—who are ready to man the business of the munition manufacturers."

"It is not quite clear what all this means unless it refers to the bombs and revolvers of Mr. Morgan's assassin, Muenster, who is fated in Vienna and Munich as a German martyr."

SCHEME MAY NOT WORK.

"There are 3000 Hungarian societies in America which can create trouble and foment strikes, but for such an undertaking a central organization or body is necessary, and the American authorities may have something to say on that subject. Underground agitation, on the other hand, would be of very little use. Moreover, though there are many thousands of Hungarians employed in factories in America, turning out war material for England and the allies, and though the agents of the German organizations are doing their best to impress them with their ideas, these people pay little or no heed to them."

COUNT TISZA'S IDEA.

"Count Tisza, in giving his followers some idea of his policy, is reported to have said something to this effect: 'We have been at war almost a year now, and have tried to behave modestly, as every great military power should behave. We have worked hard and shed our blood, and spent our money until we have achieved a position in the war which justifies our attitude and pretensions of friendship for the allies.'"

WILSON TO CAST DIE; ORDUNA CASE LOOMS UP.

Situation Confronting President Called Gravest Since Days of Lincoln.

Majority of Cabinet Advisers Believe Executive Should Stand Pat and Insist on Reparation from Germany in Lusitania Affair and Also in Rights of Americans on High Seas According to Treaty of 1828.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 18.—President Wilson, the only man in the whole world who knows what step this nation of 100,000,000 people is about to take in the serious submarine controversy with the German Empire, is on his way to Washington to dispatch a reply to Berlin's conditions of immunity for Americans and American ships in the war zone.

Will he reject the German proposals to spare Americans traveling only on American ships guaranteed free of contraband? Will he insist on reparation for the killing of 115 American passengers on the Lusitania? Will he serve notice of more drastic action by this government in the event of the unjustified killing of Americans in the future?

Or, will he accept the conditions on which Germany assures Americans of freedom from harm from the attacks of submarines? Nobody knows—except the President. Isolated in the New Hampshire hills in that seclusion which he prefers for the solution of the problems of policy, the President has pondered during the week that has elapsed since the receipt of the German answer, the course to which he has committed the nation. What that course is he has confided to no one at his summer residence at Cornish. The reason is believed to be that he has not even confided it to his new Secretary of State, Robert Lansing, the member of his Cabinet with whom the President has been in communication.

THE ORDUNA EPISODE.

One administration official, who fears that the reports of the attempt to torpedo the Orduña without warning have gravely complicated the question affecting the relations of the United States and Germany, uttered this significant observation tonight: "Not since Lincoln came to Washington in 1861 has a President journeyed to the capital to meet the duty in a matter of greater moment to the nation than that with which Mr. Wilson is about to deal. Thank God it is a united nation which awaits the President's resolution with trust and confidence."

The President will arrive in Washington tomorrow. He is to have a protracted conference with Secretary of State Lansing. They will submit to him other than the draft of a reply to Germany which each has prepared. They will thresh out any questions of divergence of opinion disclosed by the drafts.

On Tuesday the President will submit his proposed note to his Cabinet for approval and the whole question of the policy to be adopted will be thoroughly discussed. The President will take suggestions under consideration and react to the note at the Cabinet meeting on Friday. It is said that the communication will be cabled to Berlin next Saturday or Sunday.

The majority of the members of the Cabinet entertain the opinion that the President will not recede in the slightest degree from the attitude he has maintained throughout the correspondence with Berlin. They expect him to reiterate his contention that Americans possess an inalienable right under the guarantees of international law and of the treaty with Germany to travel on lawful business on the high seas on ships of belligerent, as well as neutral nationality, and that noncombatants aboard unarmed, unoffending merchant vessels of any nationality are entitled to immunity from harm.

The President is expected to inform Germany that standing upon the rights accorded to neutrals and noncombatants by international law the United States can recognize no plea of necessity which invades those rights and violates humanitarian principles, and that the noncombatants aboard unarmed, unoffending merchant vessels of any nationality are entitled to immunity from harm.

In regard to the Lusitania the advisers of the President believe he will insist upon reparation for the 115 American lives lost. Likewise it is predicted that the President will reject as entirely unacceptable the German proposals to spare Americans traveling only on American ships guaranteed free of contraband.

AUSTRIA IS PREPARING ULTIMATUM TO RUMANIA.

(BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

ATHENS, July 18.—The great scarcity of munitions in Turkey is about to lead the government of Germany and Austria into taking extremely serious steps. It has been already reported that consignments of munitions of war from Germany for Turkey have been held up in Rumania. The Russian newspaper Rusko Slovo states that the governments of the central empires are preparing a note to Rumania on this question which is one of life and death for Turkey. Austria-German hopes in Turkey.

Today inquiries in diplomatic circles here tend to show that Rusko Slovo's statement is quite correct. It is learned that the note will take a tone akin to an ultimatum. Austro-German troops are now being concentrated on the Rumanian frontier as a means of exerting pressure on the Bucharest government before the note is handed to it.

The whole position of Turkey's army in the Gallipoli Peninsula is in the balance unless Turkey can secure very large consignments of ammunition. It is said that the stubborn defense of her army in the peninsula is doomed to crumble dramatically and that at an early date.

A very reliable informant says that information received from Constantinople is to the effect that the present available supply will be exhausted in a little over a fortnight. Germany lately has been speeding up work at two arsenals which Turkey owns. The output of shells has been raised from a few scores per day to 500, but even such an increased supply is hopelessly inadequate for the gigantic needs of the campaign.

GERMANS PUSH ADVANCE INTO CZAR'S TERRITORY.

Petrograd Reports the Russian Forces Are Gradually Falling Back.

Teuton Offensive, However, is not Without Heavy Losses, as the Slavs, by Counter-attacks, Inflict Severe Damage in the Bug, Vistula and Diester Regions. French Recapture Trench on the Meuse.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, July 17 (via London, July 18).—The official statement issued tonight was as follows:

"On the Goldingen-Mouraviovo front the enemy retained his positions on the right banks of the rivers Vindau and Venta and continued his advance in the direction of Tekum (near the Gulf of Riga, thirty-eight miles west of the city of Riga) and Auta.

"The enemy's infantry were repulsed in the Pope Liany district.

"Fierce fighting continued July 15 on the extension of the front on the right bank of the Orzyc. Three enemy regiments attacked the village of Podocze and captured it. They crossed the river, capturing five of our guns. The enemy was attacked, however, by our troops with bayonets and suffered severely. The guns were recaptured and the enemy was driven out of the village. Siberian detachments from Turkestan, fighting against enemy forces double their number, showed high courage.

"Northwest of Radom a brigade of Cosacks attacked the Austrian vanguard near the village of Morkseta, capturing three officers, 2500 men and three machine guns.

"We retired south of Isakouff in the direction of Malwa on account of large enemy reinforcements having come up.

"The enemy assumed a general offensive between the Vistula and the Bug rivers on the night of the 16th. Enemy attacks at Podlize, Wilkolia and Bikhova (east of Krasnol) were repulsed.

"On the left bank of the Vepzra the enemy advanced after desperate fighting. Our troops held their ground on the evening of the 16th, on the Iedevno-Krasnol front (south of Lublin). Enemy attacks on Volina on the right bank of the Vepzra were repulsed.

"East of Grabovets Friday night and the following day, the enemy penetrated our wire entanglements several times, but was repulsed on each occasion by our fire and bayonet attacks. South of Grabovets between Goshava and the Bug, the enemy is obstinately attacking the front Medelin-Maclo-mono. We made successful attacks in this district.

"Attacks on the Bug near Krilov, Sokol and Kolosov were repulsed and hundreds of prisoners taken by us.

"Between the Diester and the Bug, in the vicinity of the Diester, the fighting continues without substantial change.

"Our submarine, the Nerpa, sank a coal steamer in the Black Sea."

"On the heights of the Meuse, sharp infantry actions have occurred. By a counter-attack this morning we recaptured a trench section, which the enemy had occupied yesterday on the ridge south of the Sonvaux ravine.

"In the course of the day a new German attack, in which burning liquid was employed, was repulsed. We inflicted on the enemy in these attacks very heavy losses and took prisoner two officers and 200 men, belonging to three different regiments.

"There is nothing of importance on the rest of the front to report."

THE AFTERNOON REPORT.

The following announcement was made this afternoon at the War Office:

"The night was relatively calm and there is nothing to report except some artillery actions in Belgium, near St. Georges and in Artois, in the vicinity of Souchez.

"The attack made on the 16th against the positions which we held at Fontenelle was led by two battalions, which, as was shown by an examination of the ground, sustained heavy losses."

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S TRAIN, NEW HAVEN (Ct.) July 18.—President Wilson today brought to a close the longest and most strenuous vacation he has had since entering the White House. He left Cornish, N. H., this afternoon and will arrive in Washington early tomorrow morning, prepared to give immediate consideration to the German situation and other problems.

Despite the fact that no details of the President's return trip were given out in advance, he was greeted by large crowds at every stop on his way back to Washington. This afternoon, at several places he stepped out on the rear platform of his private car and shook hands with as many people as time permitted.

Virtually all the people of Cornish and Windsor, Vt., saw their distinguished summer neighbor off from the "Summer Capital." He waved his hand and took off his hat to the assembled crowds as they applauded him.

WASHINGTON (D. C.) July 18.—Secretary Lansing announced last night the receipt of a cablegram from the American Embassy at Vienna stating that in cable transmission a typewritten page of the long note presented by Austria to the United States on the subject of exporting war munitions had been omitted.

The Embassy reported that inasmuch as a complete copy of the note had not been received on July 2, the note would not be repeated by cable unless requested. Mr. Lansing decided to await the receipt of the mailed copy before deciding what answer should be made by the United States.

FOOD HARPIES ARE DENOUNCED.

BERLIN (via London) July 18.—The executive committee of the Socialist party and of the Federation of Socialist Labor Unions have united in a protest to the Minister of the Interior against any rise in the maximum prices of grain and flour. It has been intimated that there will be an increase when the Federal Council adopts the new regulations for the conservation and the distribution of this year's harvest. The executive committee of the federation publishes in the Vorwaerts a manifesto "against food harpies."

VIENNA (via London) July 18.—The official statement issued today is as follows:

"On the Bug River in the region of Sokol, our troops drove the enemy from a series of stubbornly defended places. To the northeast of Slenno we broke through the Russian front.

"The enemy is evacuating his positions between the Vistula and the Kleise-Padom Railway."

He left Cornish, N. H., this afternoon and will arrive in Washington early tomorrow morning, prepared to give immediate consideration to the German situation and other problems.

Despite the fact that no details of the President's return trip were given out in advance, he was greeted by large crowds at every stop on his way back to Washington. This afternoon, at several places he stepped out on the rear platform of his private car and shook hands with as many people as time permitted.

Virtually all the people of Cornish and Windsor, Vt., saw their distinguished summer neighbor off from the "Summer Capital." He waved his hand and took off his hat to the assembled crowds as they applauded him.

AUSTRIAN NOTE IS SIDETRACKED.

WHOLE PAGE RELATING TO WAR EXPERTS IS LOST IN CABLEING.

WASHINGTON (D. C.) July 18.—Secretary Lansing announced last night the receipt of a cablegram from the American Embassy at Vienna stating that in cable transmission a typewritten page of the long note presented by Austria to the United States on the subject of exporting war munitions had been omitted.

The Embassy reported that inasmuch as a complete copy of the note had not been received on July 2, the note would not be repeated by cable unless requested. Mr. Lansing decided to await the receipt of the mailed copy before deciding what answer should be made by the United States.

FOOD HARPIES ARE DENOUNCED.

BERLIN (via London) July 18.—The executive committee of the Socialist party and of the Federation of Socialist Labor Unions have united in a protest to the Minister of the Interior against any rise in the maximum prices of grain and flour. It has been intimated that there will be an increase when the Federal Council adopts the new regulations for the conservation and the distribution of this year's harvest. The executive committee of the federation publishes in the Vorwaerts a manifesto "against food harpies."

VIENNA (via London) July 18.—The official statement issued today is as follows:

"On the Bug River in the region of Sokol, our troops drove the enemy from a series of stubbornly defended places. To the northeast of Slenno we broke through the Russian front.

"The enemy is evacuating his positions between the Vistula and the Kleise-Padom Railway."

London.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S TRAIN, NEW HAVEN (Ct.) July 18.—President Wilson today brought to a close the longest and most strenuous vacation he has had since entering the White House. He left Cornish, N. H., this afternoon and will arrive in Washington early tomorrow morning, prepared to give immediate consideration to the German situation and other problems.

EATING WHAT YOU WANT

Not to be limited in his diet, but to eat whatever he pleases without discomfort is the dream of every dyspeptic.

Nobody can honestly promise to restore any stomach to this happy condition because all people cannot eat the same things with equally satisfactory results. It is literally true that "what is one man's food is another man's poison." But it is possible to select a pleasing diet from articles of food that cause no discomfort and it is possible to tone up the digestive organs.

When the stomach lacks tone there is no quicker way to restore it than to build up the blood. Good digestion without rich, red blood is impossible and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer the best way to build up the blood. They also have a direct action on the nerves and as the nerves control the processes of digestion, these pills are especially good in stomach trouble attended with thin blood and in nervous dyspepsia.

You can begin this treatment at once because your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Perhaps you are not eating the right foods. Sometimes the very things that people eat hurt them. A postal card request to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will bring a free diet book. Write for it today.

MOOSE ARRIVE BY THOUSANDS.

FOUR THROUGH CITY EN ROUTE TO THEIR CONVENTION.

Local Herd Meets Parties from Many States and Extends Hospitality.—Warning Recalls Existence Here of an "Outlaw" Lodge.

A herd of 2000 Moose passed through Los Angeles yesterday en route to their national convention in San Diego. A reception committee of local Moose, headed by D. H. Hurley, met all special and regular trains bringing the visitors.

Registration headquarters were established at the Rossmore, and the Moose Clubhouse at No. 417 South Hill street was thrown open to the public. Most of the visitors were taken to Venice and Ocean Park in motor cars after they had registered and taken a brief look around the city. At the beach cities special committees looked after the pleasure of the travelers.

A special train, bearing 200 Moose from Iowa, arrived over the Salt Lake road at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. All regular trains brought delegates. A train with Supreme Director M. M. Garland, Supreme Prelate Hyman D. Davis and Hon. John J. Lents of Ohio, Governor of Missouri, and other delegates from Philadelphia, Chicago and Kansas City, made a brief stop in the city yesterday morning on the way to San Diego.

MOOSE GATHER AT SAN DIEGO.

NATIONAL CONVENTION TO BE OPENED TODAY FOR THOUSANDS.

(By A. P. NICHOLS.)
SAN DIEGO, July 18.—Red, the official color of the Loyal Order of Moose, was in evidence today with the arrival of 1800 members for the national convention which opens tomorrow. It will be in session until July 25. Moose day at the Panama-California Exposition has been designated as July 22. It was announced tonight that 20,000 will be there by Tuesday.

In the advance parties arriving today were delegates from lodges from various parts of the country. Toronto, Montreal, Victoria, Nova Scotia, Manila, Honolulu and Alaska are represented among the early arrivals. Lodges from the following cities arrived tonight: Pittsburgh, El Paso, Chicago, Columbus and New York City. The Mooseheart Boys' Band of Mooseheart, Ill., came with the first of the lodgesmen.

The first business session will be held tomorrow afternoon. The mornings of convention days will be given over generally to business meetings, while many automobile trips to points of interest and visits to the exposition have been arranged for afternoons and evenings.

One exception to this programme will be an excursion on the San Diego and Arizona Railway to Tecate, Mex., Tuesday morning.

An election of supreme officers will be held and the site for the $500,000 sanatorium which the order will build will be chosen. New Mexico, Colorado, California, Texas and Arizona have offered locations.

The biggest Moose.

Both of whom were here yesterday en route to the convention at San Diego. At the top is Supreme Director M. M. Garland and below is J. J. Lents, Governor of Missouri, the great institutional refuge maintained by the order.

MORMON CHOR TONIGHT.

Concert by Unique Organization of Two Hundred Singers will be given at Trinity Auditorium. The first of two concerts to be given by the Mormon Tabernacle Choir of Ogden, Utah, will occur tonight at Trinity Auditorium. About 200 trained singers are members of the organization.

Soloists are as follows: Miss Emma Lucy Gates, prima donna of the Royal Opera of Berlin and Cassel, and W. R. Worley, tenor, and Leon Hoffmeister, baritone. Organists are J. J. McCallan, of the great Mormon Tabernacle of Salt Lake City and Samuel F. Whitaker, of the Mormon Tabernacle of Ogden. Conductor is Joseph Ballantyne.

The programme will include numbers by Dudley Buck, Delibes, Gounod, Leoncavallo, Donizetti, Tchaikovsky and others.

Another concert will be given tomorrow night.

FRATERNITY IS PRIMARY NEED.

Man's Brotherhood Theme of Convention President.

Is First Great Work Church has to do, He Says.

Stress of War Time Colors
the Opening Address.

President White of the general convention of the Christian churches, which opened yesterday at the Bible Institute, made the opening address last night to a cosmopolitan audience of about 5000 persons.

Dr. White is not a stranger on the Pacific Coast, having served a successful pastorate of six years in San Francisco. He left the Coast to become secretary of the Transylvania University, his alma mater. For the past six years he has been in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he has accomplished unusual results in church work.

His subject yesterday was "The Mission of the Church." He said in part:

"The months which have intervened since we last met have been the most trying and difficult for our nation of any similar period in her history. The fury of the war storm cloud has left its impress upon every phase of our life. The church, in every department of her activities, has felt the strain and the burden of this experience.

"Our missionary and benevolent agencies have borne a heavy burden they have been forced to adopt measures which have all but broken the heart. During the sessions of this convention, each organization will bring you its own heart message. The feebleness of our language makes impotent the servants of our God in telling the full story of the world's suffering and need.

"I shall leave the report of our efficient secretary, Graham Frank, to tell the story of the general convention's services during the past year.
The future of the general convention is in the hands of the brethren. Pray-fully, thoughtfully and wisely they have guided the church in the past.
We have no reason to doubt less care shall be bestowed upon her in the future. With this word of general introduction, I now turn to the consideration of the special theme of the hour, 'The Mission of the Church.'

MISSION UNQUESTIONED.
"Upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it. That the church of Jesus Christ has a distinctive mission is unquestioned. That this mission is clearly understood and appreciated is doubtful. It is the aim of this address to set forth, in distinct form, that which I conceive to be the true mission of the church.

"In the mind of the founder of the church we discover two fundamental ideas: namely, it was to be a permanent and victorious institution.

"In fixing the mind of His followers
upon the permanency of the church, Jesus makes a direct appeal to one of the most significant factors in human life. Conviction as to permanency is fundamentally essential to whole-hearted loyalty. The battle for any cause is more than half fought when once this principle is fixed in the mind and heart. The teachings of Jesus are pregnant with the thought of permanency.

"Permanency is essentially a keynote of the Christian religion. The soul leaps with the swiftness of eagle wings and grasps with talons of steel that which promises permanency.
Deep and fixed in the foundation of His church did Jesus lay the principle of permanency.

STRIFE AND VICTORY.
"Having established this principle, we are led easily and naturally to the consideration of the second idea which we discover to have been in the mind of Jesus when he announced the foundation upon which His church was to be established—a victorious church.

"That His church should encounter opposition, be subjected to persecutions, driven by foes without, and fall friends within to the very brink of despair, was from the beginning perfectly clear to the mind of Jesus; but that it should be overcome by all the armies of hell was never for one moment given consideration by Him.

"We hear much talk these days about the inefficiency and failure of the church. This state of mind indicates two things: Want of faith in the pre-eminent Head of the church, and gross ignorance regarding the actual accomplishments of the church.
To affirm that the church has failed is to assert that Jesus Christ is a failure. To recognize the failure of Jesus Christ is to see God as failure.
Such an assertion makes chaos of the universe. This can be none other than the rash statement of the thoughtless, the silly word of the half-seeing, those who behold men as trees walking.

"The supreme mission of the church is to discover and adequately interpret the mind of Jesus. The accomplishment of the first of these appears on the surface at first thought to be not a difficult task, and if it were not for the fact that many honest and capable minds have set for themselves this task, and each in turn has brought a new or difficult message for the world's consideration, we might quickly answer—'Lo here.'
A very present danger in making such an investigation is found in deeply-rooted convictions, the result of peculiar religious training. The most persistent hindrance to the on-going of the church of Jesus Christ lies in our judgment just here.

SOME GUIDES.
As an aid in determining this important question, permit the suggestion of one or two simple facts which will serve, we believe, in breaking the spell of any harmful preconceived notions.

"Let us think of Jesus as a universal character. First, as to time, yesterday, today and forever. In the beginning he was with God, all things were made through Him and without Him was not anything made that hath been.

"This carries with it unquestionably the truth that deep down beneath the peculiarities of individuals, nations and ages there is, ever has been and must ever be, a common need.
To meet this common universal need is the mind of the Master. To the task of adequately meeting this need the Master has assigned His church.

"The first great work to be accomplished by the church in answer to this Macedonian world cry is the creation of a universal brotherhood.
The chief factor in the building of a real brotherhood is a clean heart.
The building of this brotherhood is a chief feature in the programme of Jesus and must necessarily become the chief business of His church.

"The creation of a universal brotherhood in no sense under-values the existence of the local congregation, but let it be understood that the local congregation has no authority for its existence save the authority of expediency; while on the other hand
the church as a universal institution, has all the authority of Jesus Christ and the inspired New Testament writers to sustain its existence.

"In truth, my brethren, we shall never rid ourselves of the contention, which like the fury of the storm has beaten itself against our Zion for many,
many years past, by keeping our ears constantly to the ground catching the rumbling, ominous sound of every discordant note, but by the grace of Him who gives us wings of faith, must we rise into the realm of Christian service made possible in the existence of a universal brotherhood through faith in Jesus Christ, the triumphant Son of the Living God."

SWIM IS COSTLY.

Eight-hundred-dollar Diamond Stolen while Owner Splashes in Athletic Club Tank.

A plunge into the pool at the Los Angeles Athletic Club cost H. Gordon Bader $800 yesterday. It was not a fee, but a misfortune, that caused the cost, for he left his three-carat diamond in his locker when he disrobed for his dip.

He tucked it away in a mether pocket of his coat, and thought it successfully concealed, should anyone care to investigate.

When he finished his swim and resumed his clothes and reached for his diamond to return it to its possessor of vantage on his tie, he called the manager, the manager called the attendant and the attendant called the janitor. Then they all called the police station to report the loss.

Notable Figures in Church Convention.

Among the Christians of all the earth,

Who are gathered here for the convention which opened last night with the annual address of General Convention President Walter M. White (top).
Below him are Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, Dr. Smith was for twenty-one years pastor of the First Christian Church of Los Angeles and is now manager of the Christian Board of Publication and editor of the Christian Evangelist. The inset is Miss Maud Polite, a pretty page. On the left, below, is Rev. William F. Cowden, pioneer Christian minister of the northwest and founder of churches in many States. On the right is Dr.
George W. Brewster, Jr., a "comer" from San Jose.

microscope and yardstick into the scriptures and thus lace his grip on the miraculous and it unbinds the steel corsets of the iron-clad conservatism and makes his heart beat warm with that of his brother.

"The whole make-up of a preacher changes when he takes the missionary view-point. His heart beats in unison with all other hearts engaged in the Master's cause. He is thrilled by a companionship with a mighty past, and his soul is disciplined by the vastness of his work. His field is as unlimited in extent as the world itself.

"Every preacher has millions of souls in his parish and when his responsibility to them ready dawn on him he will undergo a regeneration.
He can never be the same man again.
Every church is God's agency for world redemption and when this conscience comes to it, only God can measure the power bound up in it.
The supreme need of the church is to be filled with hunger to save the world.

RECEPTION TO MAYOR.

The Illinois Association of Los Angeles will give a reception at the Alexandria tomorrow evening in honor of Mayor Thompson of Chicago and his party, who will arrive tomorrow morning. A special invitation is extended to all former residents of Illinois and particularly those from Henry county, Illinois.

NOBLES JOYOUS IN HOME OASIS.

Singing Shriners Come Back from Seattle Council.

Are to Entertain Many Big Caravans this Week.

Southland is Now Mecca for Many Thousands.

Singing and shouting, every one of them glad to be back in their home town, 110 members of Al Malakiah Shrine arrived here yesterday evening on a special train from Seattle, where they attended the forty-first Imperial Council of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Although they had been requested to stay over in Seattle for a few days, the members of Al Malakiah Temple wanted to be here to welcome the incoming special trains bearing Shriners of other temples. The first of these trains will arrive at 6:30 o'clock this morning. Other special trains will arrive almost hourly throughout the week.

The Shriners were met last night by Louis Cole, who has been appointed chairman for the week's program. Brig.-Gen. Robert Wankowski, past, illustrious Potentate of Al Mala-kiah, led his host from the train.

"We have had the time of our lives," Gen. Wankowski said last night. "There has never been so successful a meeting of the Shriners. It was one big party from start to finish.

"We feel especially honored as our patrol was chosen to escort the Liberty Bell in the great parade."

While the general was talking, the chanters of the local temple gathered by the train and started to sing their famous song, "I Love You, California."
They had no sooner got fairly started when the crowd standing about the station joined in, the sound swelling and rolling over the freight yards.
It was a happy gathering.

HOSPITALITY PLANS.
Elaborate plans have been made for the entertainment of the incoming host of Shriners that will invade Los Angeles this week. More than 25,000 were present at the reunion in Seattle. It is expected that a large number of these will come south to see the Panama-California Exposition before departing to their homes. They will all stop over in Los Angeles for a day or two, and while here will be entertained royally by the members of the local temple.

The first to arrive will be members of Aladdin Temple of Columbus, O., who will come on a special train at 10 o'clock this morning, via the Southern Pacific. Lulu Temple of Philadelphia, 425 strong, will come in tomorrow on three sections of a special train, the first arriving here at 1:30 p.m.

All special trains will be met by the members of Al Malakiah, and the visitors will be given a hearty welcome. Each will be instructed to go at once to Shrine headquarters in the Alexandria and register. Here they will be given complimentary tickets for the automobile rides and buffet reception.

ON THE FILM.
These automobile rides will start promptly at 1:45 p.m. every afternoon, from Central Park. Each delegation, as it arrives, will be taken to Universal City, where close-up motion pictures will be made of it. A special scenery has been built at the motion-picture city for this occasion, depicting oriental views.

Every afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a reception at the Alexandria.
There will be dancing, a buffet lunchon and entertainment. Tickets for these receptions may be had at registration headquarters in the hotel.

Because of the great number of Shriners to arrive this week, the Entertainment Committee is hard pressed to arrange matters satisfactorily. Owners of automobiles are urged to assist in showing the beauties of Los Angeles and vicinity to the guests of the city. Leo W. Barnett, chairman of the Al Malakiah Automobile Committee, is endeavoring to secure a large number of cars for use this week. Those who wish to help Mr.
Barnett may communicate with him
by calling A2155.

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found
Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep
the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink
every few minutes,
and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down.

So poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it.
It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said,
'Why don't you try it?' I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better, and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.'

So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E.
BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.
In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, "woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy." The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine

SOMETHING TO KEEP.

You must have heartily enjoyed the beautiful current number of The Times Magazine. Some of its stories seem unusually fine and the illustrations from the big fairs are better than ever.

NO PROTECTION.

The Japanese have taken up baseball on this side of the Pacific and also in their own home towns. The California Japanese have organized a team to play the Nipponese universities on their local diamonds. America holds no copyright on its national game or national defenses.

CHEATING CALIFORNIA.

It develops that Herbert C. Hoover, who was graduated from Stanford and is now a trustee of that university, had the promise of King George of England to attend the fair at San Francisco, a plan defeated only by the outbreak of the war. This is another quarrel we Americans have with the present fair of nations.

CLEVER POLITICS.

The English women are putting their men hopelessly in debt. In London the other day 50,000 of them marched through the streets by way of emphasizing a demand that they be allowed to manufacture munitions. England is already using 1500 women in a single factory. We can hardly imagine Premier Asquith refusing to receive a suffrage delegation when the war is over.

MUST NOT BEAT CARPETS OR WIVES.

Cincinnati has an ordinance that is the delight of lazy husbands and the grief of dirt-hating wives. It makes it a misdemeanor to shake draperies and bedding out of windows, or to beat rugs and carpets outdoors. Whether the ordinance was inspired by a desire to keep unwholesome, tuberculous and typhoid-breeding dirt out of the lungs of the dwellers in the great Ohio city, or was promoted by manufacturers of vacuum cleaners is not known. Anyway it is the law, and a man who beats a carpet outdoors incurs the same punishment as if he beat his wife indoors.

THEY KEEP YOUNG.

James Wright of this city drives his own automobile and takes care of it. Three months hence Mr. Wright will be 85 years old. He has none the best of Capt. Isaac Polhamus, a pioneer of Yuma, Ariz., who has been here for the summer on a visit to one of his sons, the local agent for the Canadian Pacific. While the big preparations were going on for the meeting of the Elks' Grand Lodge Capt. Polhamus received a letter notifying him that he had been elected a member of the Yuma lodge. He got on a train, went down and took his initiation and came back on the day the lodge convened, an Elk of only twenty-four hours' standing, but more than 87 years of age. Your westerner does not play with an age limit.

EMOTIONAL AND DELIBERATE WILL.

The difference between direct and representative government, between the making and unmaking of laws by the initiative and referendum, and their enactment and repeal by a legislature, is the difference between the emotional and the deliberate will of the people.

Montesquieu asserted that the best form of government on earth was the New England town-meeting system. The same conclusion might be passed on the operations of direct democracy in the Swiss cantons, where, as in rural New England, the people are not too numerous to come together and deliberate. But the town-meeting system is unsuited to cities and to States.

The initiative, the referendum, the recall, the recall of judicial decisions, the direct primary and the proposed nonpartisan law all invite government by emotion instead of by reason, and the substitution of a government of men for a government of law.

Mr. Theodore Marburg, chairman of the Executive Committee of the American Peace Congress, in a recent address in Chicago, said:

"We hear much about the will of the people, but little about the informed will of the people. The important thing is to maintain institutions which insure expression of the informed will of the people. Our Federal and State Constitutions, bi-cameral legislatures, courts, the veto power of Governor or President, all are designed to bring out the informed will of the people. Among large populations, unless these institutions are retained, we will have the emotional will of the people instead of the informed will of the people expressed in our statutes and administrative acts."

This will mean impairment of individual liberty, spoliation, communism and anarchy, the only return from which last is through the door of despotism. Privileges once indulged to all the people cannot easily be taken away from a part of them.

The initiative and referendum are not instruments of representative government. Rather do they undermine it. Certainly they lessen the responsibility of the legislator.

If the judge knows that he or his decisions are subject to recall, will he not be tempted to bow to popular clamor, with the result that his cases will be tried for him by the populace?

Will the nonpartisan law which proposes a choice of public officers based only upon the ambition and greed of unindorsed office-seekers be a desirable substitute for a choice as between men who have passed the scrutiny of a party convention and received its approval?

To ask the question is to answer it.

HOW TO STOP IT.

It may not be denied that the people of the United States of all parties, all creeds, and all shades of opinion on other points, are in favor of stopping the inhuman practice of allowing private parties to prolong the European war by making arms and munitions of war and selling them to the allies.

But it cannot under our laws be stopped. The President has no more right to stop it without authority of Congress than he has to issue an edict of prohibition against the smoking of cigarettes.

And even if Congress were to enact a law embargoing the exportation of arms to the allies it might be regarded by them as an unconstitutional act that would amount to a casual belligerent and warrant a declaration of war against us.

It might be done in this way. Let Congress "provide for the national safety" by a law "taking over" all arms manufacturers in the United States, and prohibiting any manufacture of arms or munitions (other than fowling pieces, sportsmen's rifles and revolvers,) by private parties.

That would stop the business, for it is, and for many years past, has been a part of international law, reiterated in the Declaration of London, that a neutral nation shall not sell arms or munitions to a belligerent.

But Congress will not be in session until December unless President Wilson shall call an extra session. He did that in the interests of democracy. Might he not do so now in the interests of humanity?

"STAGE MONEY."

Discretion seems to have been thrown to the winds, along with prudence by the administration press bureau at Sacramento. Statements sent out by the publicity department of the Board of Control are about as reliable as censored dispatches from the European war zone. In some recent reports of that board the baldest deception is practiced on the very papers which have devoted their columns during the last five years to giving to the administration their arduous but thoughtless and heedless support. A typical illustration is a recent statement concerning the printing of text-books for the primary grades of the State schools. Here is a sample of it which was used editorially by a local "Progressive" contemporary in its dawn and twilight editions:

"In the elementary schools of California last year there were 400,000 school children. These were supplied with text-books printed at the State printing office. The prices charged by eastern manufacturers, compared with the prices charged during the Gillett administration and under the Johnson administration, furnish an interesting study. They are as follows:

"Eastern manufacturers....."	$488,408
"Gillett administration....."	$53,039
"Johnson administration....."	$30,970

"Taking these figures for a text, a number of 'Progressive' editors throughout the State delivered a homily on the superior advantages of State ownership, calling attention to the fact that the State produced those books for $250,000 less than the lowest price at which they are sold by the eastern manufacturer. Then followed a further complacency over the fact that under godly 'Progressive' rule the State manufactured its school books for one-third less than the cost under the unholly conditions that existed prior to the Armageddon campaign. For the publisher, 'Progressives' who read administration papers only it was a welcome vindication of the Johnson regime.

But to the Philistines that discrepancy of $250,000 was a little too great. They suspected that the administration press agent was passing out another bundle of 'stage money' and they started to investigate. In a few lines there more sharp competition than in that of publishing books. If the State was turning out books for less than half the price asked by the eastern publishers it must mean that some new kind of press and binder was in use and valuable information might be gained by an inspection of the State plant. It was not a question of cutting out the publisher's profit or saving on composition; the State buys the plates and pays a royalty on those books from these same publishers, and it costs the publisher just as much for exploitation to sell a copyright and the plates of a book as to sell the finished product. There was no question of saving on the paper, that costs about 12 per cent. more here than in the East; nor of labor, for the scale of the State printing office is about 20 per cent. higher than that of the average eastern publishing-house. Yet the State Board of Control was authority for the statement that the State did the press work and binding on those books for less than half the price of the eastern publishers.

By the time the investigation was fairly started Sacramento began to be bombarded by telegrams from angry eastern publishers. The prices quoted by the State Board of Control were a little more than twice what the books could be bought for in large quantities by the State of California. Chairman Neylan had simply taken the list price at which those books were sold at retail and compared that with the cost of finishing the books in the State printing office, 'Progressively computed,' without any allowance for interest, insurance or depreciation of the plant. Figures were available showing that the publishers offered those books for 10,000 lots when in competition with each other, but these were naively disregarded.

If the figures of that table were to be of any use whatever it would be to show the difference in price to the State of California between manufacturing and buying those books. But the statement furnished the press by the State Board of Control boosted the figures for which they could be bought a little more than 100 per cent.

That the figures concerning the difference in cost between the Gillett and Johnson administration are equally misleading is proved by the following statement by Chairman Neylan himself, which was printed in the Sacramento Bee on July 5 of the present year:

"The present cost of manufacturing text-books for the elementary schools of California shows a saving of $12,066.51, as compared with what the same books cost prior to the Johnson administration."

Compare this with that table showing a saving of $123,000 and draw your own conclusions.

The Belle of the Fair.

clusions. That difference of $12,000 could be explained in a single item: the text-books now produced by the State do not have the same binding as those under the Gillett administration. The State seal has been omitted and the quality of the material has been cheapened. This alone would make a difference of much more than $12,000 on a $250,000 contract.

But the final proof of the palpable absurdity of that table sent out by the Board of Control is the bids submitted to the State Board of Education last week by private publishers to supply the State with books for the primary grades.

W. C. Doub & Co. of Oakland submitted a bid for supplying a series of six books for the primary grades which averages 10 per cent. less than the cost of printing these books. 'Progressively' compiled, by the State printing office. Here is a California publisher offering to duplicate the books turned out by the State printing office for less than the price at which the State claims to produce them, and does sell them. Based on the figures of this certified bid the State loses $25,000 in place of saving $250,000 in doing its own press work and binding on those books. Just another reminder that stage money pays no taxes.

BACK STEPS FOR SMOKERS.

Among society's minor offenders the smoker still holds his own. Here is one masculine peccadillo against which paternalism and invective alike seem powerless. Of all the conventions called to California this year the only one that was not a howling success, was the Anti-Smokers' convention.

One resolution, indeed, was carried nem. con., that smoking husbands be relegated to the back steps and girls addicted to cigarettes be boycotted by nice young men. Both reforms will probably be fruitless. The average wife is wise enough not to jeopardize domestic happiness by forcing hubby to spend his evening hours on the back steps. And if she attempted it hubby would probably find some more congenial surroundings for his evening cigar. Wife, even at the expense of some unpleasantness to her olfactory nerves, will still prefer to see her helmsman spend his evenings at home.

As for the girl with the cigarette, even the nicest of nice young men a pretty face covers a multitude of sins. Of course a cigarette disfigures the prettiest face and a strong pipe is the abomination of abolitionists, and smokers would be better off in pocket and health if they abjured the noxious weed. But after all, if a cigar—provided it is a good Havana and not a cabbage stalk—is the worst vice that can be urged against a prospective bridegroom, the girl might accept him without running extraordinary risks.

THE RICHEST CITIZEN.

Money talks. Every community holds its richest citizens in high esteem, so long as the wealth was accumulated legitimately and is used in a public-spirited manner. Such a citizen always commands the respect of his fellows; his friendship is held precious and his antagonism a thing to be avoided.

As with individuals, so with nations. At the close of the war Uncle Sam will be the richest citizen in the world. His wealth has been earned in a legitimate and an honorable way. He is already the leading contributor to international charity and relief work. His friendship is precious, his antagonism a thing to be avoided. He has power to adjust the grievances of the belligerents and to bring them to a reasonable peace possessed by nobody else. Money talks.

CONSERVATIVE BUSINESS METHODS BEST.

(CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES)
 BY ROGER W. BABSON.

President, Babson Statistical Organization.
MANY manufacturing industries are receiving material aid from the so-called war orders. I hate to write enthusiastically regarding war orders, for I think they possess considerable of the boomerang nature. I may illustrate this by repeating what was said to me last evening by an Englishman.

"I was speaking of war orders and wondering how England and her allies felt toward our eagerness in accepting them. I asked him whether the English considered this a friendly act on our part or simply a cold-blooded commercial proposition. The reply was:

"England regards the European situation much as a house which has been broken into by a burglar in the middle of the night, with France and Belgium quietly sleeping in bed. England is a real neighbor who hears the commotion and rushes to seize the burglar. The United States is a new and timid person, who recently moved into the vicinity, who helps by stealthily entering, seizing the silver which the burglar is after, and hiding with it under the bed until the burglar is bound and sent off to the lock-up."

"Of course, from now on, while we are fighting the burglar," said this Englishman, "you should have a fairly easy time under the bed with the silver, but after the burglar is disposed of, and you come out from under the bed, you may rest assured that you will not have the silver for your own."

If readers will supply the words "war orders" for silver, they will understand how I feel about this special class of business from which we are now temporarily profiting, but from which there may be a reaction.

Business is still poorest in the South, although conditions are much improved over eight months ago. Personally, I am rather sorry that they have so improved, because the southern planters are not diversifying their crops so much as they promised to do when they felt the pinch last fall. Before our southern friends can depend on continued good business they must learn to raise even more corn and wheat, and even less cotton.

New York also shows poor business conditions, and statistically ranks almost as low as the South. I suppose this is due to the fact that conditions in New York City form such a prominent feature in making up the business statistics for the entire State.

The most poorest conditions are found in New England, the Ohio Valley, and the South Central States. Conditions in these sections are still below the average, probably because manufacturing enters so largely into the compilation of their statistics. The Pacific and Mountain States show similar unsatisfactory conditions. Nevertheless, some parts of the country have returned to normal, among them the west central portions, and the Southwest and Northwest. Strange to say, business is worst in the southeastern portion of the country, and best in the northwestern.

Fundamental conditions suggest that, as the summer advances, business should improve. A study of railroad earnings, clearings, failures, loans, bank deposits, commodity prices, and the like suggests a general picking up in business as fall approaches. Perhaps this is most evident in the rates which are charged for money. Where money can be secured at 4 per cent. to 5 per cent. in the spring, it commands 5 per cent. to 6 per cent. in the fall. Hence, although general business is pretty quiet now, it should not become worse, and may soon be very much better.

The excellent agricultural prospects are stimulating general trade throughout the Middle West, and mining activities are rapidly reviving in the lake regions, the Southwest and the mountainous sections.

"War-order" business, which, as I have pointed out, is liable to have its reaction, is something the country at large will do well to take with ample allowance for its essential nature. Speaking generally, business, during the next year, will be best for the man who gets neither too optimistic nor too enthusiastic, but conservatively keeps in the middle of the road and bases his actions on cold figures.

RIPLING RHYMES. THE DIZZY DAUGHTER.

Mary Jane, you dizzy daisy, what a mess you always make! Are you careless or just lazy? Is your intellect a fake? All your traps, you heedless critter, I see strewn around the floors; ma will come and clean the litter, when she's done her other chores. Always counting on another to do things you ought to do, always waiting for your mother to come tolling after you! Ma will all this mess abolish, when she's dusted forty chairs, when she's put a coat of polish on the furniture upstairs; when she's cleaned and scaled some fishes, when she's pared a pair of apples, when she's washed the dinner dishes, when she's patched a heap of duds, when she's so dodged weary that her work-worn soul is frayed, she'll come tolling round you, dearie, cleaning up the mess you've made. Mary Jane, your mother's older than she was when she was young; she has stitches in her shoulder, and the asthma in her lung; every step she takes is harder than the step she took before, as she wanders from the ladder to the well or henhouse door. Some sad day we shall have laid her to her rest, her labor through; while she's with us you should aid her, not make work for her to do. WALT MASON.

Pigs Save Owner's Life.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger:] Several pigs belonging to Henry Smith, a farmer near Trout-Run, are permitted to roam the woods and have developed a dislike of snakes.

Today, when Smith was trying to kill two big rattlesnakes and a six-foot black snake which were fighting, he was attacked by all three reptiles. His dogs heard the noise, and coming to his aid with their sharp hoofs and tusks, tore the snakes to shreds and devoured them. The rattlesnake, according to Smith, measured nearly three feet. The blacksnake was the largest ever seen in this section.

Struck by Resemblance.

[St. Joseph News Press:] "As a matter of fact," said the lawyer for the defendant, trying to be sarcastic, "you were scared half to death, and don't know whether it was a motor car or something resembling a motor car that bit you."

"It resembled one all right," the plaintiff made answer. "I was forcibly struck by the resemblance."

SOMETHING TO KEEP.

You must have heartily enjoyed the beautiful current number of The Times Magazine. Some of its stories seem unusually fine and the illustrations from the big fairs are better than ever.

NO PROTECTION.

The Japanese have taken up baseball on this side of the Pacific and also in their own home towns. The California Japanese have organized a team to play the Nipponese universities on their local diamonds. America holds no copyright on its national game or national defenses.

CHEATING CALIFORNIA.

It develops that Herbert C. Hoover, who was graduated from Stanford and is now a trustee of that university, had the promise of King George of England to attend the fair at San Francisco, a plan defeated only by the outbreak of the war. This is another quarrel we Americans have with the present fair of nations.

CLEVER POLITICS.

The English women are putting their men hopelessly in debt. In London the other day 50,000 of them marched through the streets by way of emphasizing a demand that they be allowed to manufacture munitions. England is already using 1200 women in a single factory. We can hardly imagine Premier Asquith refusing to receive a suffrage delegation when the war is over.

MUST NOT BEAT CARPETS OR WIVES.

Cincinnati has an ordinance that is the delight of lazy husbands and the grief of dirt-hating wives. It makes it a misdemeanor to shake draperies and bedding out of windows, or to beat rugs and carpets outdoors. Whether the ordinance was inspired by a desire to keep unwholesome, tuberculous and typhoid-breeding dirt out of the lungs of the dwellers in the great Ohio city, or was promoted by manufacturers of vacuum cleaners is not known. Anyway it is the law, and a man who beats a carpet outdoors incurs the same punishment as if he beat his wife indoors.

THEY KEEP YOUNG.

James Wright of this city drives his own automobile and takes care of it. Three months hence Mr. Wright will be 88 years old. He has none the best of Capt. Isaac Polhamus, a pioneer of Yuma, Ariz., who has been here for the summer on a visit to one of his sons, the local agent for the Canadian Pacific. While the big preparations were going on for the meeting of the Elks' Grand Lodge Capt. Polhamus received a letter notifying him that he had been elected a member of the Yuma lodge. He got on a train, went down and took his initiation and came back on the day the lodge convened, an Elk of only twenty-four hours' standing, but more than 87 years of age. Four westerners does not play with an age limit.

EMOTIONAL AND DELIBERATE WILL.

The difference between direct and representative government, between the making and unmaking of laws by the initiative and referendum, and their enactment and repeal by a legislature, is the difference between the emotional and the deliberate will of the people.

Montesquieu asserted that the best form of government on earth was the New England town-meeting system. The same encomium might be passed on the operations of direct democracy in the Swiss cantons, where, as in rural New England, the people are not too numerous to come together and deliberate. But the town-meeting system is unsuited to cities and to States.

The initiative, the referendum, the recall, the recall of judicial decisions, the direct primary and the proposed nonpartisan law all invite government by emotion instead of by reason, and the substitution of a government of men for a government of law.

Mr. Theodore Marbury, chairman of the Executive Committee of the American Peace Congress, in a recent address in Chicago, said:

"We hear much about the will of the people, but little about the informed will of the people. The important thing is to maintain institutions which insure expression of the informed will of the people. Our Federal and State Constitutions, bi-cameral legislatures, courts, the veto power of Governor or President, all are designed to bring out the informed will of the people. Among large populations, unless these institutions are retained, we will have the emotional will of the people instead of the informed will of the people expressed in our statutes and administrative acts."

This will mean impairment of individual liberty, spoliation, communism and anarchy, the only return from which last is through the door of despotism. Privileges once indulged to all the people cannot easily be taken away from a part of them.

The initiative and referendum are not instruments of representative government. Rather do they undermine it. Certainly they lessen the responsibility of the legislator.

If the judge knows that he or his decisions are subject to recall, will he not be tempted to bow to popular clamor, with the result that his cases will be tried for him by the populace?

Will the nonpartisan law which proposes a choice of public officers based only upon the ambition and greed of unwashed office-seekers be a desirable substitute for a choice as between men who have passed the scrutiny of a party convention and received its approval?

To ask the question is to answer it.

HOW TO STOP IT.

It may not be denied that the people of the United States of all parties, all creeds, and all shades of opinion on other points, are in favor of stopping the inhuman practice of allowing private parties to prolong the European war by making arms and munitions of war and selling them to the allies.

But it cannot under our laws be stopped. The President has no more right to stop it without authority of Congress than he has to issue an edict of prohibition against the smoking of cigarettes.

And even if Congress were to enact a law embargoing the exportation of arms to the allies it might be regarded by them as an unequal act that would amount to a casus belli and warrant a declaration of war against us.

It might be done in this way. Let Congress "provide for the national safety" by a law "taking over" all arms manufacturers in the United States, and prohibiting any manufacture of arms or munitions (other than fowling pieces, sportsmen's rifles and revolvers,) by private parties.

That would stop the business, for it is, and for many years past, has been a part of international law, reiterated in the Declaration of London, that a neutral nation shall not sell arms or munitions to a belligerent.

But Congress will not be in session until December unless President Wilson shall call an extra session. He did that in the interests of democracy. Might he not do so now in the interests of humanity?

"STAGE MONEY."

Discretion seems to have been thrown to the winds, along with prudence by the administration press bureau at Sacramento. Statements sent out by the publicity department of the Board of Control are about as reliable as censored dispatches from the European war zone. In some recent reports of that board the baldest deception is practiced on the very papers which have devoted their columns during the last five years to giving to the administration their arduous but thoughtless and heedless support. A typical illustration is a recent statement concerning the printing of text-books for the primary grades of the State schools. Here is a sample of it which was used editorially by a local "Progressive" contemporary in its dawn and twilight editions:

"In the elementary schools of California last year there were 401,000 school children. These were supplied with text-books printed at the State printing office. The prices charged by eastern manufacturers, compared with the prices charged during the Gillett administration and under the Johnson administration, furnish an interesting study. They are as follows:

"Eastern manufacturers.....$488,408
 "Gillett administration.....353,939
 "Johnson administration.....230,970"

These figures for a text, a number of "Progressive" editors throughout the State delivered a homily on the superior advantages of State ownership, calling attention to the fact that the State produced those books for $250,000 less than the lowest price at which they are sold by the eastern manufacturer. Then followed a further complacency over the fact that under godly "Progressive" rule the State manufactured its school books for one-third less than the cost under the unholy conditions that existed prior to the Armageddon campaign. For the purblind "Progressives" who read administration papers only it was a welcome vindication of the Johnson regime.

But to the Philistines that discrepancy of $250,000 was a little too great. They suspected that the administration press agent was passing out another bundle of "stage money" and they started to investigate. In few lines is there more sharp competition than in that of publishing books. If the State was turning out books for less than half the price asked by the eastern publishers it must mean that some new kind of press and binder was in use and valuable information might be gained by an inspection of the State plant. It was not a question of cutting out the publisher's profit or saving on composition; the State buys the plates and pays a royalty on those books from these same publishers, and it costs the publisher just as much for exploitation to sell a copyright and the plates of a book as to sell the finished product. There was no question of saving on the paper, that costs about 12 per cent. more here than in the East; nor of labor, for the scale of the State printing office is about 30 per cent. higher than that of the average eastern publishing-house. Yet the State Board of Control was authority for the statement that the State did the press work and binding on those books for less than half the price of the eastern publishers.

By the time the investigation was fairly started Sacramento began to be bombarded by telegrams from angry eastern publishers. The prices quoted by the State Board of Control were a little more than twice what the books could be bought for in large quantities by the State of California. Chairman Neylan had simply taken the list price at which those books were sold at retail and compared that with the cost of finishing the books in the State printing office, "Progressively computed," without any allowance for interest, insurance or depreciation of the plant. Figures were available showing that the publishers offered those books for 10,000 lots when in competition with each other, but these were naively disregarded.

If the figures of that table were to be of any use whatever it would be to show the difference in price to the State of California between manufacturing and buying those books. But the statement furnished the press by the State Board of Control boosted the figures for which they could be bought a little more than 100 per cent.

That the figures concerning the difference in cost between the Gillett and Johnson administration are equally misleading is proved by the following statement by Chairman Neylan himself, which was printed in the Sacramento Bee on July 5 of the present year:

"The present cost of manufacturing text-books for the elementary schools of California shows a saving of $12,066.51, as compared with what the same books cost prior to the Johnson administration."

Compare this with that table showing a saving of $123,000 and draw your own conclusions.

The Belle of the Fair.

clusions. That difference of $123,000 could be explained in a single item: the text-books now produced by the State do not have the same binding as those under the Gillett administration. The State seal has been omitted and the quality of the material has been cheapened. This alone would make a difference of much more than $123,000 on a $250,000 contract.

But the final proof of the palpable absurdity of that table sent out by the Board of Control is the bids submitted to the State Board of Education last week by private publishers to supply the State with books for the primary grades.

W. C. Doub & Co. of Oakland submitted a bid for supplying a series of six books for the primary grades which averages 10 per cent. less than the cost of printing these books, "Progressively" computed, by the State printing office. Here is a California publisher offering to duplicate the books turned out by the State printing office for less than the price at which the State claims to produce them, and does sell them. Based on the figures of this certified bid the State loses $25,000 in place of saving $250,000 in doing its own press work and binding on those books. Just another reminder that stage money pays no taxes.

BACK STEPS FOR SMOKERS.

Among society's minor offenders the smoker still holds his own. Here is one masculine peccadillo against which paternalism and invective alike seem powerless. Of all the conventions called to California this year the only one that was not a howling success, was the Anti-Smokers' convention.

One resolution, indeed, was carried nem. con., that smoking husbands be relegated to the back steps and girls addicted to cigarettes be boycotted by nice young men. Both reforms will probably be fruitless. The average wife is wise enough not to jeopardize domestic happiness by forcing hubby to spend his evening hours on the back steps. And if she attempted it hubby would probably find some more congenial surroundings for his evening cigar. Wife, even at the expense of some unpleasantness to her olfactory nerves, will still prefer to see her helpmate spend his evenings at home.

As for the girl with the cigarette, even for the nicest of nice young men a pretty face covers a multitude of sins. Of course, a cigarette disfigures the prettiest face and a strong pipe is the abomination of abominations, and smokers would be better off in pocket and health if they abjured the noxious weed. But after all, if a cigar—provided it is a good Havana and not a cabbage stalk—is the worst vice that can be urged against a prospective bridegroom, the girl might accept him without running extraordinary risks.

THE RICHEST CITIZEN.

Money talks. Every community holds its richest citizens in high esteem, so long as the wealth was accumulated legitimately and is used in a public-spirited manner. Such a citizen always commands the respect of his fellows; his friendship is held precious and his antagonism a thing to be avoided.

As with individuals, so with nations. At the close of the war Uncle Sam will be the richest citizen in the world. His wealth has been earned in a legitimate and an honorable way. He is already the leading contributor to international charity and relief work. His friendship is precious, his antagonism a thing to be avoided. He has power to adjust the grievances of the belligerents and to bring them to a reasonable peace possessed by nobody else. Money talks.

Beyond Analysis.

Love is a boon we accept just because it is—it cannot be dissected or analyzed. Love is at once the simplest and most baffling, the commonest and rarest of earth's blessings. It may come suddenly, it may be a gradual growth; may unfold like a rosebud overnight, may mature after many years from an acorn into an oak tree. Sometimes it thrives under conditions that ought logically to kill it; sometimes it dies where everything seems favorable to its continuance. Love is life, none can foresee the end of either.

What to an untrained ear is a discordant note only adds to the harmony; some false tempo that only a master musician can detect destroys the whole song. Love is at once resistant and susceptible; like tempered steel no blow can shatter it, but an insidious acid can eat it slowly away. Love is practical, since the perpetuation of the race depends upon it, and yet when lovers begin to regard it from a practical standpoint alone it ceases to be love.

"I can't see whatever made Jack marry a woman like that!" "Now what Jill can see in that man I'm sure I don't know." But Jack and Jill know, and yet for the life of them they couldn't tell you. "I have no reason but a woman's reason—I think him so because I think him so."

Not in Fighting Mood.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger:] Critical Husband: This beef isn't fit to eat. Wife: Well, I told the butcher that if it wasn't good I would send you around to his shop to give him a thrashing; and I hope you'll take someone with you, for he looks pretty fierce, and I don't like the way he handled his big knife.

His Great Comfort.

[Birmingham Age-Herald:] "Dubbins is a great comfort to me." "I don't see how you can say that. He's the most tiresome chump I have ever met." "That's just it. Although I don't amount to much, it's true, every time I look at Dubbins I feel that I could amount to less."

An Amateur.

Polly: Yes, but he tied it in a double knot, so it couldn't come untied again.

CONSERVATIVE BUSINESS METHODS BEST.

(CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES)
 BY ROGER W. BABSON.

President, Babson Statistical Organization.
 MANY manufacturing industries are receiving material aid from the so-called war orders. I hate to write enthusiastically regarding war orders, for I think they possess considerable of the boomerang nature. I may illustrate this by repeating what was said to me last evening by an Englishman.

I was speaking of war orders and wondering how England and her allies felt toward our eagerness in accepting them. I asked him whether the English considered this a friendly act on our part or simply a cold-blooded commercial proposition. The reply was:

"Of course, from now on, while we are fighting the burglar," said this Englishman, "you should have a fairly easy time under the bed with the silver, but after the burglar is disposed of, and you come out from under the bed, you may rest assured that you will not have the silver for your own."

If readers will supply the words "war orders" for silver, they will understand how I feel about this special class of business from which we are now temporarily profiting, but from which there may be a reaction.

Business is still poorest in the South, although conditions are much improved over eight months ago. Personally, I am rather sorry that they have so improved, because the southern planters are not verifying their crops so much as they promised to do when they felt the pinch last fall. Before our southern friends can depend on continued good business they must learn to raise even more corn and wheat, and even less cotton.

New York also shows poor business conditions, and statistically ranks almost as low as the South. I suppose this is due to the fact that conditions in New York City form such a prominent feature in making up the business statistics for the entire State.

The next poorest conditions are found in New England, the Ohio Valley and the South Central States. Conditions in these sections are still below the average, probably because manufacturing enters so largely into the compilation of their statistics. The Pacific and Mountain States show similar unsatisfactory conditions.

Nevertheless, some parts of the country have returned to normal, among them the west central portions, and the Southwest and Northwest. Strange to say, business is worst in the southeastern portion of the country, and best in the northwest.

Fundamental conditions suggest that, as the summer advances, business should improve. A study of railroad earnings, clearings, failures, loans, bank deposits, commodity prices, and the like suggests a general picking up in business as fall approaches. Perhaps this is most evident in the rates which are charged for money. Where money can be secured at 4 per cent. to 5 per cent. in the spring, it commands 5 per cent. to 6 per cent. in the fall. Hence, although general business is pretty quiet now, it should not become worse, and may soon be very much better.

The excellent agricultural prospects are stimulating general trade throughout the Middle West, and mining activities are rapidly reviving in the lake regions, the Southwest and the mountainous sections.

Nevertheless, while it is true that I have pointed out, is liable to have its reaction, is something the country at large will do well to take with ample allowance for its essential nature. Speaking generally, business, during the next year, will be best for the man who gets neither too blue nor too enthusiastic, but conservatively keeps in the middle of the road and bases his actions on cold figures.

RIPLING RHYMES.

THE DIZZY DAUGHTER.

Mary Jane, you daisy daisy, what a mess you always make of it! Are you careless or just lazy? Is your intellect a fake? All your traps, your heedless critter, I see strewn around the floors; as will come and clean the litter, when she's done her other chores. Always counting on another to do things you ought to do, always waiting for your mother to come tolling after you! Ma will all this mess abolish, when she's dusted forty chairs, when she's put a coat of polish on the furniture upstairs; when she's cleaned and sealed some fishes, when she's pared a pair of spuds, when she's washed the dinner dishes, when she's patched a heap of duds, when she's so dogged weary that her work-worn soul is frayed, she'll come tolling round you, dearie, cleaning up the mess you've made.

Mary Jane, your mother's older than she was when she was young; she has stitches in her shoulder, and the asthma in her lung; every step she takes is harder than the step she took before, as she wanders from the ladder to the well or henders door. Some sad day we shall have laid her to her rest, her labors through; while she's with us you should aid her not make work for her to do. WALT MASON.

Pigs Save Owner's Life.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger:] Several pigs belonging to Henry Smith, a farmer near Trout-Run, are permitted to roam the woods and have developed a dislike of snakes.

Today, when Smith was trying to kill two big rattlesnakes and a six-foot blacksnake which were fighting, he was attacked by all three reptiles. His dogs heard the noise, and coming to his aid with their sharp hoofs and tusks, tore the snakes to shreds and devoured them. The rattlesnakes, according to Smith, measured nearly three feet. The blacksnake was the largest ever seen in this section.

Struck by Resemblance.

[St. Joseph News Press:] "As a matter of fact," said the lawyer for the defendant, trying to be sarcastic, "you were scared half to death, and don't know whether it was a motor car or something resembling a motor car that hit you."

"It resembled one all right," the plaintiff made answer. "I was forcibly struck by the resemblance."

WESTERN TENNIS PLAYERS AGAIN WALLOP EAST.

BUNDY BEATEN
IN SINGLES.Only Westerner to Fall in Team Matches.McLoughlin Easily Masters Norris Williams.Strachan and Johnston Have no Troubles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Panama-Pacific tennis activities came to a conclusion this afternoon at the courts of the California Club, with play in the team match singles, East vs. West. Invading talent captured only one match of the four played, the honor for this victory going to Dean Mathey, former Princeton star.

Mathey took Tom Bundy of Los Angeles into camp after five hard sets, winning by the scores of 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

In the balance of the afternoon's programme McLoughlin, Strachan and Johnston experienced little difficulty in successive defeats of Williams, Washburn and Church. As the Coast players had previously won both doubles matches, the full score of the event is five wins for the West against one for the East.

THE FEATURE.

The team match between Maurice McLoughlin and R. N. Williams was the feature of the meeting. In fact, the team contest was arranged chiefly in order to ensure a contest between these two players.

The National Tennis Association last year ranked McLoughlin as the first player of America, although Williams beat him in the title match at Forest Hills, New York, and in doing so broke all precedents. It was desired that they should meet again and the association, in sending Williams, Church, Washburn and Mathey to this coast for the P.P.I.E. Tourney, realized that in this event a form of reversals might prevent a test and the team match was arranged in order that the meeting could be made certain. The wisdom of the association committee was shown by the fact that Williams was actually beaten in the regular tourney by Griffin.

IMPROVES.
McLoughlin won the singles tourney with great difficulty, and had a close-call in the final against Johnston, with the result that a great number of the local fans were in doubt as to whether he could hold his own in the singles against Williams.

McLoughlin, however, came through with flying colors, and showed his best tennis of the season. The hard matches of the past week served to round him into form. In driving, service, overhead work and low volleying he played fifteen better, all around, than on any other occasion this year.

Williams played a beautiful game, but he was unable to use his fancy angle stroke and stop volleys to any extent, or to clip the lines as against most opponents. "Mac's" speed kept him too busy attending to plain rallies, although he scored many points himself with powerful line drives.

BREAKS THROUGH.

In the first set, Williams broke through McLoughlin's serve in the fourth game and again in the sixth, and carried off the first frame at 4-4. From this point on, McLoughlin held the mastery and lost only one more service game during the match.

His driving grew more severe and his volleying more certain as the match progressed, and he clearly shaded Williams in almost every particular, although the latter has certainly a much stronger back-hand. Williams apparently scored passing strokes throughout the match as surely with back as with fore-hand driving. His overhead work from deep back court, however, was rather weak, though McLoughlin did not work it to any great extent. McLoughlin won the second set at 6-3, the third at 6-4 and the fourth at 6-3, and completed the competition.

JOHNSTON, STRACHAN

In the second singles competition between Johnston and Church, the latter endeavored himself to the gallery by the determination he showed in storming the net point after point, regardless of results. He is a net player, pure and simple, and he has developed a fine game in that direction.

Strachan was extended by Washburn for two hard sets, which he won, 6-4, 6-4, but he took the third and last by a score of 6-1.

Washburn scored in the first two sets time and time again with a fast line drive past Strachan's back-hand, which seemed continually to surprise his opponent, but in the third set Strachan appeared to make his intention better and afterward he was seldom surprised.

REWARDS.
At the conclusion of the tourney, the winner, runner-up and semifinalists in the Exposition Tourney were presented with handsome cups, and all the competitors in the team matches were presented with bronze and silver shields in commemoration of the exposition tourney, and with the exposition medal.

The visiting players were also presented by the Pacific States Lawn Tennis Association with silver plates, bearing an inscription commemorating their visit to the Coast.

GAME REFUGE
LAW EXPLAINED.WILD ANIMALS PROTECTED ON PRESERVES.

Act of Legislature Becomes Effective August 7—Refuges Take in Districts in Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange Counties.

BY HARRY A. CHAMBERLIN,
Member of California Legislature.

The most important product of the 1915 Legislature in the way of fish and game legislation is the act creating a game refuge in the Angeles and Cleveland National Forests, the boundaries of which extend into Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties.

Under the provisions of the new law, which will become effective August 7, it is made unlawful to kill or hunt any wild animal or bird excepting those that are predatory within the boundaries of the preserve excepting that in Fish and Game District No. 24, which includes the territory around Little Bear and Big Bear lakes, water fowl may be killed in the proper seasons.

PREDATORY.

Predatory animals within the district are protected to the extent that written permission must first be secured from the fish and game commissioners before they can be killed. Predatory animals and birds within the meaning of the law are the following: moles, shrews, wolves, coyotes, foxes, ringtail cats, coons, martens, fishers, wolverines, weasels, minks, skunks, badgers, cougars, wild cats, rats, mice, gophers, blue-jays, English or European house sparrow, great horned owl, sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, duck hawk, and house finch, commonly known as California linnets.

GAME REFUGE.

The game refuge is legally described as Fish and Game Districts Nos. 24, 25 and 26. Districts 25 and 26 take in practically all of the Angeles National Forest lying in Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties and District No. 24 is located in Orange and Riverside counties, comprising an area about forty miles square to the southeast of Lake Elizabeth.

District No. 25, which comprises the Pinnacles National Monument in San Benito and Monterey counties, District No. 26, which includes the Trinity National Forest and District No. 27, which consists of the California Redwood Park, commonly known as "Big Basin" in Santa Cruz county, are also set aside as game refuges, in which the killing of all wild animals excepting the predatory animals is prohibited.

TIGERS WIN AT VERNON
BUT ANGELS TAKE FINAL.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

THE day was saddened by the two customary combats. In the morning, the Tigers broke all records for the week by winning a ball game. This startled the entire city, with many country precincts yet to be heard from.

However, the strain of winning proved too much for Doc's athletes, and in the afternoon they collapsed.

The first game was chaste and clean, the Tigers winning by a score of 3 to 1. The p.m. pastime was mussy, each club developing great batting strength, and ended with a count of 7 to 5 in favor of Los Angeles. Fred McMullen, one of the Boy Scouts, did the place of the old ones which mysteriously disappeared during the two and a half years that the Tigers were absent in Venice. Mr. Doyle is to be commended for his enterprise.

This gave the Tigers but one game out of the six-part series. Seldom, if ever before, have they been treated so harshly by the Angels.

NEW BLEACHERS.

The morning game was featured by the appearance of brand new bleachers in right field. These take the place of the old ones which mysteriously disappeared during the two and a half years that the Tigers were absent in Venice. Mr. Doyle is to be commended for his enterprise.

Instead of becoming despondent when he found that someone had run off with his right field bleachers, he simply got busy and laid in a new supply of bleachers. The ceremony of dedicating the new bleachers to the great national game was simple. There was no blast of trumpets, no oratory and nobody lusted a bottle of champagne in honor of the event. The fans simply sat down in them, whereupon the bleachers considered themselves dedicated.

The Washington Park crowd was given a fine assortment of baseball, the same including almost every known variety of base hits, a wild pitch, a passed ball, a balk and fielding error of every description, not to mention some which cannot be described.

Long Tom Hughes, and Roy Mitchell, all new to the old American League, found on the mound. Mr. Hughes has been pitching long enough to know when he has received a plenty and quit in the seventh with the score 4 to 4. Mitchell insisted on sticking around, and in the long run got licked for his fidelity.

A PHILOSOPHER.

Slim Love, who took personal charge of the situation when Hughes quit the place, got along all right until the ninth when the Tigers scared him out of a year's growth by filing up the bases and scoring a run. Slim is not downcast, however, as he figures that he could lose a year's growth and never miss it.

While making some impressive plays, Zeb had quite a little trouble with his fielding. He made three errors, which is believed to be a world's record for him. However, none of these misplays had any bearing on the result.

TIGERS WIN AT VERNON
BUT ANGELS TAKE FINAL.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The Angels had men on bases in the first, second and third. Tub's great pegging and some fine fielding by Mitchell and others prevented them from making any advancement in their chosen profession.

Vernon busted through to a one-run lead in the second. Partell three-bagger and Risberg chucking him across with a single. Los Angeles caught up in the fourth. Koerner kicked Mitchell for a double, and took third when Red Held called a balk. Mitchell said that he didn't do anything of the kind, but could not argue Red out of his original idea. When Mr. Held makes up his mind that a guy has made a balk he refuses to change said mind.

TWO MEN.

Incidentally, Red did the work of two men yesterday. Bill Guthrie, his co-conspirator, stepped on the business end of a stinger while disporting himself in the ocean late Saturday afternoon.

As Bill does not wear shoes while bathing, the result was quite painful. The stinger was successfully removed from his foot, but it left its mark there. It was just about a year ago that Guthrie stepped on another stinger. Now that he has been stung in both feet he should realize that the stinger, while an undesirable citizen, cannot be stamped out.

Anyway, Beer took third on the balk and scored on Zeb's single. Vernon tied it up on hits by Bayless and Gleichmann in the fourth. By scoring three tallies in the fifth, the Angels took what appeared to be an enormous lead. A walk by Hughes, singles by Margort and McMullen, a double steal by these parties which was made possible because Rader lost his man at third, a sacrifice by Volter and a clean drive by Koerner, not to mention a passed ball, were some of the ingredients of this cluster.

TIES GALORE.

It was a dull inning when somebody didn't tie the score, and the Tigers took their turn at it in the sixth. Gleichmann shed a triple in right center with two gone. Risberg was the recipient of a pass. He stole second, did act as a runner, but to spill the pill into center field. Gus scored, and the terrible Swade took third, which was further than he had expected to get in his deadly work. Long Tom emitted a wild pitch that let Risberg in. Tub then doubled. He attained third on Zeb's low throw of Mitchell's grounder, after which Rube pinched a fly from Rader.

ONE ON RED.

Berger opened the seventh with a triple to the scoreboard. This jarred Long Tom loose from the scenery. Love was called in. Slim had been warming up for some time, and was just ripe enough. Before he could pitch any, though, George Metzger pulled off an Ajax stunt. Boles

THE DUKE.
Duke Kahanamoku broke his own indoor world's record in the 100-yard dash with a performance of 54 2-5s, shading his former mark by one-fifth of a second.

Mike McDermott of the Illinois Athletic Club smashed his own world's record of 2m. 49 4-5s. in the 300-yard breast stroke by two-fifths of a second, going last night in 2m. 49 2-5s.

In the 300-yard relay, each member of a four-man team going seventy-five yards, the Illinois Athletic Club's mermen broke their own world's record for the distance by 2 1-5s., going in 2m. 42 2-5s.

LUDY.
Miss Frances Cowells of this city established a new American record in the 220-yard dash, swimming the distance in 6m. 13 4-5s., beat the previous American record of 6m. 20 1-5s., held by Perry McGilivray of the Illinois Athletic Club.

In the final scores of the meet the Illinois swimmers took first honors. Central Association, 34 points; Hawaiian, 25; Pacific, 25; Pacific Northwest, 8; Middle Atlantic, 8; Metropolitan, 1.

PITCHER KEEFE IS RELEASED.
PORTLAND (Or.) July 18.—Just before leaving with his team tonight for Salt Lake, Manager Walter Keefe, of the Portland team, released Pitcher Robert Keefe. Outfielder Walter Doane was sent to California instead of accompanying the team, having been traded to Vernon for Walter Carlisle, also an outfielder.

JASPER WILL REPORT TO ANGELS ON THURSDAY.
Powers Announces that White Sox Heaver is Willing to Play on Coast—Bad Week for Second Divisioners, but Clubs are Still Pretty Well Bunched—The Angel Pitchers are in Great Form.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
The stock took quite a jump yesterday when it was announced that Hi Jasper had decided to come out of retirement and join the Angels. Hi will join the Angels on Thursday.

Good Motion.
Roy Mitchell of the Tigers has about the best move to first base of any right-hander in the league. He keeps runners glued to the base, and it is just almost suicide to attempt to steal. While the catchers are held responsible for stolen bases, a great majority of them are swiped on the pitcher. It is a great comfort to a catcher to have a guy like Mitchell pitching.

Severe Week.
This was a severe week for second division clubs. The Seals rode rough shod, meaning with spikes on their heels. They didn't do a thing but take six out of seven from Mac's melancholy mercenaries. In this way the Seals made big gains on every club except Los Angeles and Oakland. Oakland took a fresh spurt, and by winning five out of seven, dropped the Seals into the second division. The Tigers had a bad week and the Angels profited in proportion. By taking five out of six, Dillon's men strengthened their hold on second place, and kept within striking distance of the Seals. These clubs clash in San Francisco this week, and naturally the returns will be watched with keen interest as they are flashed on the screen at Washington Park.

Not Discouraged.
The second divisioners, despite the week's developments, are by no means discouraged. The work of the different clubs has been so erratic that it is a chance, while they are still sufficiently bunched to leave possibilities for upsetting the percentage table. However, the clubs are about ready to settle into their natural stride, and the form shown during the next month's play should prove a fair criterion of what they will finish. The Seals, after a great get-away, have gravitated into the second division. Their present trip on the road has been extremely disastrous. Blankenship's bunch finishes its three weeks away from home with but eight games won out of twenty-three. The Angels beat them five out of nine. The Tigers allowed them only two out of seven, and Oakland was equally harsh with them.

Insufficient pitching has been the main factor in the slide of the Seals. Schmitt figures to bolster the staff, not only by his own work, but because he can take some of the burden of Williams and Eitzery and give them a chance to refresh themselves. However, it will probably take more than Schmitt to put the Seals back on a winning basis.

The Tigers will be able to present a stronger front next week than for several weeks past. Doane is to report Tuesday, and being a .300 hitter by nature, will come in mighty handy. He figures to increase the attack of the club, and that is the main thing needed. Johnson and Fromme, who have been on the disabled list, will be back in the game during the present series.

RYAN AND HENLEY ARE GETTING HARDER TO HIT.

JACK RYAN of Los Angeles and ACK HENLEY of Vernon made the best gains during the last month when it comes to a rating of pitchers on the basis of aggregate batting averages of opponents. A month ago, opponents had batted at a .233 clip against Ryan in the first eleven weeks of the Coast League season. At the end of fifteen weeks, Henley had cut down the batting activities of his opponents until their aggregate batting average for the first half of the season is only .221, boosting him up to second place among the regular pitchers on the system of rating.

Slim Love of Los Angeles is still holding the top berth in this rating, holding his opponents to a .204 batting average, which is three points better than a month ago, when opponents had batted .207 against him.

IN A MONTH.
A month ago opponents had batted .247 against Jack Ryan, but this month, at the end of the fifteenth week of the season, Ryan has cut his opponents down to a .233 rating and is third among the regular slubbers.

Piercy of Vernon is fourth on the list, having cut his opponents down from .257 to .254.

Scoggins of Los Angeles is the only other regular pitcher among the top-notchers who had shown improvement in this rating, having cut down his opponents from .242 last month to .237 this month.

Coveleskie of Portland and Hall of Salt Lake have been the victims of the largest increase in opponents' batting averages during the last month. A month ago opponents had batted .247 against Coveleskie; this month, they have increased that aggregate batting average to .277. Against Hall, opponents had batted .231 up to last month; up to this month they have batted .260 against him.

INCREASE.
Other pitchers against whom opponents have increased their batting averages in the last month are Klawitter, Oakland, .227 last month, and .233 this month; Fanning, San Francisco, .232 last month; .244 this month; C. Williams, Salt Lake, .247 last month; .251 this month; Higgins, both Portland, .261 last month, and .270 this month.

Klawitter has been hit safely 183 times more than any other pitcher. Spider Baum of San Francisco is next to Klawitter, having been hit 181 times; C. Williams, Salt Lake, has been hit safely 185 times, and Higgins, both of Portland with a total of 181 hits against him, the only other pitcher who has been found for more than 175 hits in the first fifteen weeks of the season.

Following records show the number of times at bat, the total hits made, and the aggregate batting averages of opponents against each pitcher for the first fifteen weeks of the thirty-week season, up to and including all games of July 11.

Cities and Towns South of Tehachepi's Top—Los Angeles County

KILLED ON EVE OF MARRIAGE.

Pasadena Youth in Accident in Northern Plant.

Graduated from High School and Oregon Aggry.

Hundreds of Rats Seen on Feed Store Site.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] PASADENA, July 18.—Without a shadow of warning to soften the blow, word reached Rev. Marshall C. Hayes of Santa Anita avenue, yesterday, that his oldest son, Marshall C. Hayes, Jr., had met death through an accident while performing his duties as assistant engineer for the Portland Lumber Company at Grays River, Oregon. Later in the afternoon, the coroner of Astoria, Or., confirmed the telegram.

Young Hayes, who had but recently secured this position following his graduation from the Oregon Agricultural College, this spring, was run down by one of the company's trains, according to the telegram, and his legs badly mangled. He was taken to the company's hospital and died while on the operating table. His body will be brought to Pasadena by his brother, Oliver, and will probably reach here Thursday or Friday.

The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, to which the young man had belonged. The recent burning of the Hayes home will make it necessary that the services be held in the chapel of the church.

Young Marshall Hayes was one of the most popular students of the Pasadena High School and after graduating from the Occidental Preparatory Academy went North and completed the course of the Oregon Agricultural College. He was 26 years of age and had been active in the work of the Y.M.C.A.

His engagement to Miss Carol Coman of Yovina, formerly of Pasadena, had been recently announced, following his promotion to the position he filled at the time of his death, and the marriage was to have been held this fall. Miss Coman is at the Freeman home.

MASSEUR OF RATS. After it had been discovered that 700 mamma and papa rats of all sizes and descriptions had been killed Saturday at the old quarries recently vacated by the Union Feed and Fuel company on Union street and that there were fully as many more which escaped, to say nothing of the baby rats left behind when the parent rodents were unceremoniously ushered into Kingdom Come by small boys armed with clubs, Sanitary Inspector C. P. Huddleston yesterday announced to the City Commission that the old rat-infested building be torn down and cleared away as a public nuisance.

During the wholesale massacre of rodents Saturday, one of the on-lookers with a fondness for mathematics figured that if every rat killed counted at least 10 cents worth of grain in a month, the cost to the fuel company would have been $70 each month, and assuming that there are as many more left there, is small wonder that the feed and fuel company selected other quarters.

SUDDEN DEATHS AT SANTA BARBARA

PROMINENT PERSONS DIE WITHIN FEW HOURS OF EACH OTHER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] SANTA BARBARA, July 18.—Two sudden deaths which startled Santa Barbara, occurred last night within a few hours of each other. Mrs. C. H. Frink, widow of the Santa Barbara merchant prince, Clarence H. Frink, died suddenly at her home at No. 1605 Bath street. Joshua J. Meekel passed away at his home, No. 1422 Bath street.

Mrs. Frink followed her husband to the grave by a few months. Her illness was of short duration, far as the public knows. She was a charter member of the Christian Science Church. Meekel's death follows the destruction by fire last week of his row of store buildings on State street. It is believed that worry over his loss brought on heart failure, death coming with hardly a moment's notice.

Both Mrs. Frink and Meekel were long residents of Santa Barbara and highly esteemed.

ELKS' FISH BARBECUE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—The Santa Ana Lodge of Elks entertained several hundred of the visiting brothers yesterday with a fish barbecue at Newport Beach. After the repast the party was taken on the boat for a short ride around the bay as the guests of the local lodge and later to the Orange County Country Club, where autos were in waiting to convey the visitors for a free ride through Orange county.

SEEKS REVENGE AS A HUSBAND.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SAN BERNARDINO, July 18.—To protect his 16-year-old sweetheart and deal with his hated rival because of the violence of his attentions to her, Harry Rice of Pasadena came here, married the girl and caused her to swear out a charge of assault against S. C. Sefton. This is said to be merely a preliminary to a more serious charge to be filed against Sefton tomorrow. Sefton, it is said, forced the girl to accompany him to this city and the complaint charges that he choked her to accomplish his purpose. The girl-bride was formerly Miss Violet E. Green.

PIANO'S TONES RE-ECHO THROUGH MOUNTAINS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SWITZER'S CAMP, July 18.—For the first time in the history of the universe the dulcet strains of a sweet-toned piano tonight stole languidly down the canyon from Switzer's Camp and echoed among the mountain tops. After six different piano firms had vowed it was impossible, impracticable and preposterous to even contemplate carting a piano up those zig-zag mountain trails and over those mountain peaks, the industry of L. C. Austin finally found the way out.

As related previously, the two musical mules, Andante and Allegro, with graceful equanimity allowed themselves to be harnessed to the piano, and with many and varied expressions of musical appreciation finally landed the instrument safely in camp.

Last night the piano was placed together and installed with much ceremony in the rock room. Then E. M. Donnell of Los Angeles, a pianist with report that Whittington might be with an old sweetheart in or near San Diego, but this proved to be inaccurate. The detectives have been unable to locate any of Whittington's friends or associates who know much of his past life. It was reported that he is the son of a prominent Baltimore family and that his father disowned him several years ago because he married an actress, but the police of that city have been unable to locate his parents or learn anything of the matter. He is said to have been very reticent in speaking of his family or his past, but from his ways and reticence he is believed to be a cultured man.

RIGHT-OF-WAY GIVEN.

Southern Pacific Agrees to Let State Highway Go Over Railroad Lands.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] VISALIA, July 18.—In a conference between the officials of the Southern Pacific Railroad and James M. Burke, Deputy District Attorney, a compromise has been reached over the proposed right of way for the State Highway through Tulare county, south of Tipton.

Under the terms of this agreement the State road will be run for a considerable portion of the distance on land of the railroad. This avoids several controversies with individual land owners and means that no further delay will hold up construction.

Conditions under which the architectural competition for the new municipal auditorium will be conducted have been announced by the City Council and it is expected that several plans will be submitted for this structure. It is specified that at least eight drawings must be submitted.

The first award will be that of a commission of $2000 on the $35,000 building, this award to include the services of a building superintendent. A site for the building has been tentatively secured near Hyde Park at a cost of $15,000, making the total cost of the equipment to the city $50,000.

BOSS BOSSIE OF THE DAIRY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] TULARE, July 18.—C. A. Peairs, the dairy inspector for Tulare county, reports a cow which he declares holds the California record for continuous milk production. According to the history, which has been secured by Peairs, the animal is the property of Henry Baty, a rancher near Tulare, and she has been a profitable member of the dairy herd for twenty-two years. The cow is 23 years old. She is giving three and one-half gallons of milk per day at the present time. Baty has owned the cow since she was a calf and her history appears to be well authenticated.

Dispute Attorney-General's Interpretation of Law.

Venice Offers Good Services to Distressed Sister.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SANTA MONICA, July 18.—Santa Monica was without any recognized municipal government on Thursday today she has both the new Commissioners operating without wards under the new-fangled charter and a City Council consisting of seven members chosen from wards by the expressed will of the people.

This peculiar condition has developed by reason of the fact that the City Council, according to the opinion of the Attorney-General, was legislated out of office when the charter amendments were adopted, but the City Council is not prepared to stand idly by. Firmly of that belief, the Council voted to meet as usual next Monday afternoon.

DOING BUSINESS. Meanwhile, the Commissioners who were appointed by the Governor—consisting of Mayor Dudley, Treasurer Barretto and Councilman Armstrong—are meeting regularly each day and transacting the business of the city. They are in possession of the strong box and are paying the bills and taking in the money.

The old Councilmen think a suit should be brought to have the courts place an interpretation upon the law and the amendments, and they think the Commissioners should bring the suit. On the other hand, the Commissioners are not averse to having the courts pass upon their claims to the office, but they are equally firm in the belief that the action should be started by the ousted councilmen.

Both sides are agreed that there should be a friendly suit, but neither seems inclined to take the initiative. The old Council expects by meeting regularly, as in the past, to retain its integrity and standing until such time as the court shall step in and say "who is who."

BOND ELECTIONS. The city's several proposed bond elections are necessarily held up, at least until the suit has been decided who is who; as neither the old Council nor the Commissioners could expect support for any issues, regardless of which set of municipal officers should attempt to call the election.

The city still has about forty days in which to move for the condemnation of the plants of the four water companies upon the valuation placed upon them by the State Railroad Commission. That election would be for $750,000 and the one proposed for a storm drain system for the whole city would elevate the bond budget to a round million.

A Proposed street improvements are in the same condition. Contractors have already refused to go ahead with contracts awarded by the old Council and as yet the new one has made no move to do anything along these lines.

SEARCH FOR BOY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 18.—The police have been asked to look for a youthful confidence man who is accused of taking $51 belonging to Mrs. Francis Almy, 691 Seventeenth street. His name is Paul McClain. His sister formerly taught school and boarded with Mrs. Almy and young McClain succeeded in gaining her confidence when he called and was invited to stay all night. This morning he departed and after he had gone Mrs. Almy found her money had disappeared. The boy is believed to have gone to Long Beach.

A Growing Family.

[New York World.] Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Doss of North Wilkesboro, N. C., a few days ago four children, and all are living. Mr. and Mrs. Doss have been married about six years and have nine children. Their first born were triplets, their second twins and the third quadruplets.

They lived in North Wilkesboro until about a year ago, when they moved to near Joneville, Surry county. They live on a farm, and it is a pretty sight to see the triplets all dressed alike.

SMASHES STICK ON MAN'S HEAD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] VENICE, July 18.—Tom Pryor, promoter and large amusement manager here, was assaulted before a large crowd of beach strollers on Windward avenue at 9 o'clock tonight by O. C. Melton, trustee of the Venice Union Church and owner of the Windward apartments.

Melton, according to witnesses, approached Pryor from the rear and wielded a walking-stick over his head. It required eighteen stitches to close the cuts on Pryor's head. The heavy stick was shattered.

Melton was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to kill, but because he is a heavy property owner here and is not expected to leave, he was released in ten minutes on his own recognizance to appear later.

Melton complained to the City Trustees against a musical contraption operated on one of Pryor's concessions and the way by which the city officials of Venice have been treated.

Mr. Pryor asserts he will prosecute criminally and civilly to recover damages.

OFFERS SERVICES. VENICE WOULD HELP. [LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] VENICE, July 18.—Venice deeply sympathizes with the predicament in which Santa Monica is a municipality finds herself, said City Trustee McCarver today, in speaking of the chaotic condition into which the charter amendments had thrown the older city.

"The city of Venice," added Mr. McCarver, "would be pleased to become a brother municipality to Santa Monica and would like to help tide her over or pull her out of the predicament. If the Governor can find any way by which the city officials of Venice could take over the management of Santa Monica until such time as it may be legally determined whether Santa Monica has one, two, or no governments, I am sure the City Trustees of Venice would be pleased to become guardians for the sainted city."

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. "Our officers would give their best energies to the management of the city's affairs and incidentally would endeavor to show her good neighbors what it means to obtain in efficient service 100 cents worth for every dollar of tax money expended. It is not clear in my own mind just how the question should be approached, but in the hour of distress and need the strong and liberal Venetian arm is always extended to those who are less fortunate."
